In this both the events we targeted 40 entries for GD and 20 for the Paper Presentation but we got huge response from the all department students. We prepared the flier for the event campaigning.

The advent of OZOTECH-23, a remarkable event held in association with the esteemed organizations ISTE (Indian Society for Technical Education) and ISHRAE (Indian Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers) Kolhapur Chapter, marked a pivotal moment in the realm of environmental conservation and engineering excellence. On the momentous occasion of the International Day for the Preservation of the Ozone Layer and Engineers' Day, we convened to celebrate and deliberate on the twin imperatives of safeguarding our planet's fragile ozone layer and recognizing the indomitable spirit of engineers who drive progress and innovation.

OZOTECH-23 was designed as a platform for inspiration and knowledge exchange, bringing together a diverse community of researchers, professionals, students, and enthusiasts. This event not only aimed to shed light on the critical role of the ozone layer in shielding the Earth from harmful ultraviolet rays but also underscored the paramount importance of engineers in shaping a sustainable future. In the heart of Kolhapur, Maharashtra, this event stood as a beacon, radiating the message that engineering prowess and environmental consciousness can coalesce to create a harmonious world.

In this report, we chronicle the multifaceted facets of OZOTECH-23, encompassing its paper presentation competition, group discussions, and a medley of enlightening sessions. As we delve deeper into the intricate fabric of this event, we aim to convey the enthusiasm, innovation, and collaborative spirit that defined this remarkable gathering. OZOTECH-23 signifies not just an event, but a collective commitment to a greener and more sustainable planet, echoing the words of Mahatma Gandhi: "You must be the change you wish to see in the world."
